WHAT IS THE CLOUD?

The term 'cloud' originated back in the 1990s when techies were trying to draw diagrams of technology systems.

When it came to the part where stuff was sent out to remote servers and computers via landlines or through the Internet, they used a drawing of a simple cloud to illustrate that multiple computers were connected to multiple other computers, all over the world. What started out as a simple way to draw something very complex is now part of our vocabulary.

Xero

(Pronounced 'z'ero) is the leading cloud accounting solution used by small to medium size businesses (SMEs), social enterprises etc.

WHO XERO IS FOR?

We have set up Xero in many sectors & sizes from business services, property, arts & manufacturing; sole traders to name just a few.

Xero CLOUD ACCOUNTING

COSTS

There will typically be one-off investments when moving to a cloud accounting platform, including preparing the data for transfer, setting up the new systems and staff training. But maintenance, version upgrades, system administration costs and any server failures are managed by the service provider, so no need for any major up-front investment in hardware and software.

SECURITY

Xero provides high-level encrypted data security and you don't pay extra for online back-ups because that's part of the subscription cost. In addition, you get practically unlimited file storage, so all your business documents comprehensive documents can be uploaded and stored online.

They can also be attached to the specific transaction, which significantly reduces the time looking for and querying transactions.

IMPLEMENTATION AND GETTING READY

When we help clients with their move to Cloud accounting, we are always mindful of the words of Bill Gates, co-founder of Microsoft, who said

“The first rule of any technology used in a business is that automation applied to an efficient operation will magnify the efficiency. The second is that automation applied to an inefficient operation will magnify the inefficiency.”
